TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN :

MR. SHANE STONE

I have been acquainted with Shane Stone for a number of years and have worked closely with him since my appointment as Director of Christ College in March of this year. During this time I have come to admire and appreciate the personal qualities and strength of character of Shane; his loyalty and discretion are particularly noteworthy.

I have found Shane to be a most resourceful administrator, who shows initiative and performs all tasks thoroughly and competently. He has established good working relationships with Government Departments and member colleges of State College of Victoria. His ability to plan ahead has proved invaluable so that potential problems have been diffused.

In his capacity as Secretary of the Institute of Catholic Education Shane has demonstrated his capabilities to the extent that a promising future in the development of education, particularly in the field of tertiary teacher education, is foreseen. He has, moreover, shown the necessary perseverance, marked by a close attention to detail, to undertake higher studies.

I have no hesitation in recommending Shane to those who will be concerned with his future career.
